About

Korean

Language

Let's look at the structure of Korean language before confirming Korean recognition rate.

한글

In Korean, the features of the sentence structure are different from other languages.

Even if you are talking about the same word because the word and the connection are connected without a space, the composition of the word depends on the connection word.

Even if the sentence is composed of the same word, the meaning changes according to the ending word.

Few element

about what Korean is?